

Faith Green Temperament Test
D.O.B 3/24/24

Litter Video - <https://youtu.be/nVdK2QzdR3s>
Doodle Drop Video - <https://youtu.be/DaNcL10a6hA>

Faith Green came in with a nice confidence. He explored the new environment without checking in but easy to get back.

He interacted appropriately with his littermates in new situations.

There was little to no stress shown when change was introduced and he also did well with stressors like bathing and extra handling.

Faith Green notices new sounds and new objects and shows curiosity.

His focus is very good and shows a high interest in treats and toys. These are great qualities for training.

He attempts to problem solve and does not give up and shows improvement with each previous experience.

While exploring, Faith Green uses his mouth more than half the time to figure it out. If he does use his teeth to explore, no marks on skin or damage to toys.

He also rarely vocalizes in any situation.

Faith Green is comfortable and tolerant of handling.

There was no possessive tendencies shown with Faith Green. Plays well with others.

Faith Green has a moderate energy level. Faith Green is excited with no effort and is an excited puppy. He is very engaging. He interacts but respects being removed.

Faith Green shows a good balance of independence and engagement. He plays well on his own but has periods of trying to engage as well.

