Individual Notes:

The Annalise litter overall is confident and self-assured, although Red Dot and Pink Stripe need a little time to adjust to new situations. These puppies are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds, including those that should be considered startling. Red Dot and Pink Stripe need a little more time to adjust and recover from startling sights and sounds than the rest of the litter. These puppies overall have good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities, above average for their age and stage of development. They have good motivations for food, interaction, and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. These puppies overall do use their mouth to initiate or engage in play but have very good bite inhibition. They are rarely vocal. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. They have no red flags and no possessiveness. Pink Dot, Red Dot, and Pink Stripe are mid-level in energy. The rest of the litter is mid to moderate. These puppies overall are fairly consistent with very subtle differences between them; comparing these puppies side-by-side, Pink, Red, and White are the most engaging of the group. White Dot is the most independent of the group. The litter is very personable and engaging. They are social, curious, playful, and happy. They are eager to explore on their own. This litter is well-balanced and should adapt well into most homes. Red Dot and Pink Stripe will do best in a home that is going to allow them to adjust to new things without being overwhelmed.
