These girls have the fun-loving temperament of retrievers. Silly, engaging, obsessed with people, happy and social.

None believe in personal space and will work hard to be your best friend.

They will each make for a companion of a lifetime but because of their exuberant personalities and eagerness to engage, training will set them up for optimum relational success.

Pink - sweet and playful. Comfortable with handling. A little independent. Good for a busy home. She is comfortable entertaining herself for a while but does check back in regularly. Good confidence with moderate energy. No red flags.

Red - can be a little independent and entertain herself with toys and exploring.

Funny and happy puppy. She is charming to watch and interact with.

White - spunky and silly. She likes to stir things up with her funny antics. Mouthy when trying to get your attention or exploring new textures.

Training recommended because she could get a little pushy and possessive of her toys. She redirected very easily but we want to get on top of that tendency early.

She actually was one of the sweetest snugglers though. Smart puppy with great focus. Moderate energy.

Pink dot - sweet girl. Good with handling. She likes to stay pretty close and check in often for attention. A little mouthy.

She observes first and then copies what she sees. She has a sweet disposition and likes crawling in your lap for love. Mid-moderate energy.
