Pink - likes toys and people. But content to be on her own. Has a bubbly play personality. She has great tractability and focus. Good for training.

She can get a little possessive if she has a toy that she likes and doesn't want her siblings to have but she redirects easily.

Red - cute curiosity. Good with handling. Happy puppy and works hard to get your attention. She uses her mouth to explore But applies little pressure. She is very aware of her surroundings and has good focus basic manners training would be great for her as she seems eager to participate and learn. The more you engage with her, the faster, her little tail, a very joyful puppy.

White - good with handling. Settles in when held. She's very content to be handled

Mid-level energy. She's slightly more reserved than her siblings at first and is not too pushy with her interactions. She prefers getting one on one attention over toys or puppy play.

She has a sweet and calming presence when you snuggle her.

She's not a very needy puppy but lives when you give her your attention.

No red flags.

Pink dot - loves toys. Was always carrying something in her mouth. Could entertain herself. Strong retriever characteristics.

She is ready for all the fun. True to the retriever breed she's going to bring the family fun with her silly play and adoring personality.

She is very focused on what's going on around her and wants to be a part of it.

Her good focus partnered with a high toy motivation, she will be a smarty to train.

Moderate energy level.

Red dot - (BP) social, loves to engage and play with toys.

Strong retriever qualities. Happy and confident. Good focus and has the motivation to train. She is good with handling and likes affection. She has a moderate energy level and should transition well to any home environment.

No red flags.
