

Everest Girls Temperament Assessments

Date Of Birth 7/6/2024

Everest Litter Photo Album

7 Week Litter Video

WATCH Temperament Test Video

This is a fantastic litter of F1 girls. They all have really nice temperaments with a few variations, but they are all nice to be around.

Pink - Sweet girl with a mid-level energy. Has nice manners and is not too pushy. She's good with handling. Not overly needy, but doesn't mind affection. Loves toys and interacting. Settles nicely. No red flags.

Red - She is bouncy, happy and playful. Has a moderate energy level. She loves people and will be the first to initiate play. Is vocal when she wants some thing. Motivated by toys and activity. Calms nicely after adequate energy burn. A good balance of independence and engagement. Good for a busy household.

White - (BP) she loves physical touch and interacting with people. Is a little mouthy with her play but does not apply much pressure. Very happy when you are giving her attention. She has a moderate energy level and is easily excited. She's a joyful puppy. Loves toys and has a curious nature. She is confident to do her own thing, but loves interacting as well. Self assured and has good focus.

Pink dot - A little more reserved in her interaction. She keeps her herself a little more than her sisters. Didn't care for the rambunctious play. Mid-level energy when she was interested in something but pretty low-key otherwise. She will wait for you to engage with her. Otherwise, she's content to be on her own. Not a needy puppy.

Red dot - she is always looking for people to connect to. People are her favorite. She wants to sit close by if not be in your lap. She has a moderate energy level with a strong motivation to please. Good with handling and his patient. *could potentially be emotional support/therapy.