Litter Overview:

The Zena girls display a range of personalities, from confident and playful to more reserved and gentle. Each puppy has a unique balance of independence and engagement, making them well-suited for different home environments. Their energy levels vary, but all are sweet and well-mannered with no red flags, though some may benefit from basic puppy manners training to refine their interactions.

Health Notes:

White has a slight underbite, which will not impact her overall health or cause any discomfort.

Zena White

White starts off slow, preferring to explore her surroundings before engaging. Once she feels secure, her playful side shines through, and she becomes bubbly and interactive. While she can keep up with her more energetic sister, Red, she knows when to take breaks. She's curious and loves figuring things out, showing her intelligence. She can be a little mouthy during play, so basic puppy manners training is recommended.

- Energy Level: Moderate
 - Temperament Notes: Curious, playful, and smart. She takes her time to warm up but is very interactive once comfortable.

Zena Pink Dot

Pink Dot is slow to engage, taking her time to observe her new surroundings. She's very curious and pays attention to movement and noise, often showing off an adorable head tilt. Pink Dot prefers calm, gentle interactions and tends to keep to herself, avoiding rough puppy play and high excitement. She's a sweet, gentle puppy who enjoys taking it easy.

- Energy Level: Low to mid
 - Temperament Notes: Gentle, calm, and prefers quieter environments. She may become overwhelmed by too much excitement but is sweet and tolerant of handling.

Zena Pink

- Breeding Program!

Pink is a little timid at first but warms up nicely once she feels secure. She prefers to stay close to people, which helps her feel more comfortable. Her interactions are gentle, and she's never pushy or rude. With lower key play energy, she enjoys independent play but also loves to crawl into your lap for snuggles when she's ready for downtime.

- Energy Level: Mid-moderate
 - Temperament Notes: Timid at first, gentle, and loves a good balance of play and cuddle time. She calms nicely when close to people.

Zena Red

- Breeding Program!

Red is a confident, high-energy puppy who thrives in new environments. She works hard to get your attention but is always sweet in her interactions with people. She's a bit of a mischief-maker with her sisters, often initiating play, though she's always appropriate with people. While she can be a little mouthy during play which is a typical puppy manner, she redirects well and would benefit from basic manners training. She's eager for engagement and could get bored in a slower-paced household. Very fun and sweet puppy!

- Energy Level: Moderate to high
 - Temperament Notes: Confident, playful, and energetic. She loves engaging and would do well in an active household.
