BLUE - a little timid to start. But adjusted fairly quickly.

He approaches everything with a little bit of reserve, but then happily engages when he feels comfortable. He's not overly pushy or demanding of your attention, but enjoys one on one interaction. He currently has a mid-level energy that potentially will increase as confidence builds.

He is a nice puppy to be around. He would do well with or without other pets in the home.

Meaning he is content to be on his own, but he also mimics behaviors and could learn from another dog.

He's more passive with his interactions. A sweet boy will just need a little time to adjust but will make for a wonderful companion. No red flags.

PINK - social and happy. She has a curious nature and is very intrigued by what you're doing and wants to be a part.

She hung close to the tester most of the time.

She wants to get and keep your attention. She loves any type of engagement that you offer her. New sites and sounds are exciting for her.

Watch for potential service or therapy.

She prefers interacting with people over anything. She will bond very easily and should transition without any problem.

No red flags, but would love to see her matched with someone who wants to put her through training to reach her full potential. Mid moderate energy level.
