Carley Litter Temperament Overview:

The Carley litter is full of confident, happy, and playful puppies! They interact well together and are gentle with handling, showing their sweet and affectionate side when picked up, even though they currently prefer play over snuggles. These puppies are best suited for a home that offers interactive play and adventure. They are ready to keep up with any active lifestyle and will thrive in environments where they can engage in fun and exploration.

Carley Blue

- Energy Level: Mid-Moderate
- Personality: Blue is the middle-of-the-road puppy in the group, making him easy to be around. He is the most interested in human interaction, naturally respectful, and soft-natured. Blue's gentle demeanor and love for people make him a perfect fit for any home looking for a puppy that enjoys companionship without being overly demanding. His balanced personality ensures a smooth transition into a new environment. No red flags were noted.

Carley Green

- Energy Level: Moderate
- Personality: Green is a confident, independent puppy who is excited about life! He's the most self-sufficient of the group, preferring toys and play over human interaction. While he's not as focused on people, he remains gentle and affectionate when handled, showing his sweet side. If he were more interactive with people, he would have been the breeder's pick. Green's playful, funny personality makes him an entertaining companion, and he will do well in a home that encourages his independence. No red flags were noted.
