Myra Boys Temperament Overview:

The Myra boys are a snuggly, sweet group with a natural motivation for human interaction. They are exceptionally people-oriented and thrive on affection, making them wonderful companions who love to be held and snuggled. These boys came in a bit shy but quickly gained confidence, revealing their gentle, respectful, and easygoing personalities. With consistent, middle-of-the-road temperaments, these puppies are intuitive, affectionate, and very intelligent, showing high potential as emotional support or therapy companions. They all have mid-level energy, are non-vocal, and share an innate ability to bond easily. Each of these boys is respectful and loving, bringing both humor and heart to any family.
