Myra Pink

- Energy Level: Mid to Moderate
- Personality: Pink is a happy, bubbly puppy who seems to smile all the time! She's highly affectionate and loves both giving and receiving attention. Despite her small size, she's very confident and self-assured, often acting "big" in the most adorable way. Pink is drawn to wherever the action is and has a strong focus on everything happening around her, making her a quick learner and an excellent training candidate. Her motivation, alertness, and easygoing nature make her a joy to handle and love on. She will transition smoothly into her new home. No red flags were noted.

Myra Red

- Energy Level: Mid to Moderate
- Personality: Red starts off a bit reserved, preferring to observe her surroundings until she feels comfortable. Once given time to warm up, she becomes incredibly social, playful, and her confidence shines through. Her happy, interactive nature makes her a joy to be around—her wagging tail says it all! If new experiences make her a bit nervous, allowing her time to adjust will help her feel at ease. Red is intelligent, bonds easily, and will thrive in a patient, loving environment. No red flags were noted, though giving her time to adjust is recommended.

Myra White

- POTENTIAL EMOTIONAL SUPPORT OR COMFORT COMPANION

- Energy Level: Mid-level
- Personality: White is gentle, sweet, and a little shy, with a natural preference for staying close to people. Her polite and soft play style makes her a wonderful fit for a calm household. She isn't drawn to exuberant play or loud noises, instead finding security in gentle interactions and close companionship. White's trusting nature, combined with her love for being around people, makes her a strong candidate for an emotional support or comfort companion role. She's great with handling and loves attention. No red flags were noted.

Myra Pink Dot

- Energy Level: Mid to Moderate
- Personality: Pink Dot is a confident, playful puppy with a wonderfully silly and animated play style that's fun to watch. She's unfazed by new sights and sounds, showing a fearless and curious personality. Pink Dot is happy to entertain herself but equally enjoys interactive play. When excited, she shows a delightful, clumsy joy that brings smiles all around, and she calms beautifully when held. Her balanced temperament and fun-loving personality make her a fantastic family companion. No red flags were noted.

Myra Red Dot

- Energy Level: Mid to Moderate
- Personality: Red Dot is a happy, confident puppy with a middle-of-the-road temperament. She strikes a perfect balance between independence and affection, enjoying both solo exploration and shared playtime. Not overly needy, she appreciates one-on-one attention and is patient with handling, calming down beautifully when held. Red Dot's balanced and joyful disposition ensures she will transition smoothly into most home environments. She will be a delightful addition to any family. No red flags were noted.
