Harlem Males Overview:

The Harlem litter is a sweet and gentle group of puppies, leaning more on the mild side with naturally respectful and low-key temperaments. Some puppies are slow to start, requiring time to warm up to new surroundings, but they all exhibit endearing qualities as they adjust. While the litter as a whole is still a bit immature, they show great promise in their ability to adapt and thrive. These puppies are easy to be around, making them well-suited for homes that appreciate gentle, loving companions.

Health Notes:

- None

Harlem Blue

- Energy Level: Mid
- Personality: Blue is a thoughtful and observant puppy who takes longer to adjust to new surroundings. While not initially focused on human interaction, he becomes more engaged after warming up, happily joining playtime and exploring the room. His mild whining when unsure is minimal and part of his process of acclimation. Blue's calm and exploratory nature makes him a great fit for a home that values his independence and curiosity. No red flags were noted.

Harlem Green

- Energy Level: Mid
- Personality: Green is confident, self-assured, and observant, with a natural independence that allows him to explore new surroundings with ease. He enjoys checking out his environment and is less reliant on human interaction, though he remains sweet and approachable. Green's balance of independence and curiosity makes him an ideal companion for a home that values a laid-back and exploratory puppy. No red flags were noted.
