Blair Girls Temperament Overview:

The Blair girls are confident, playful, and eager to explore. They are not shy of new sights or sounds and have naturally vibrant, bouncy, and silly personalities. Their play energy is positive, and they are busy and curious but did not display much vocalization during their assessments. These girls have moderate energy levels and are socially engaging, making them fun and interactive companions.

Blair Pink

- Energy Level: Moderate
- Personality: Pink is highly motivated by toys and play. She is always found with a toy in her mouth and frequently tries to get her siblings involved in play. She has the most energy of the group and would do best in a home that provides plenty of engagement, energy burns, or a playmate.

Blair Red

- Energy Level: Moderate
- Personality: Red is playful and interactive but can also be observant at times. She enjoys human connection and will seek it out often. She equally loves playing with her littermates and toys. She is energized by play and engagement and has a fun, bouncy personality.

Blair White

- Energy Level: Moderate
- Personality: White is curious and investigative. She is motivated by toys and enjoys playing with her sisters. She can be curious with her mouth at times but has great bite inhibition. She is fun, happy, and full of positive energy.
