Lainey Litter Overview:

The Lainey litter initially took a moment to adjust to new surroundings, but once settled, they became curious and investigative. The boys stood out as particularly smart and resourceful, figuring out ways to get underneath or over obstacles that most puppies would not. They are naturally curious, often using their mouths to explore chewable objects nearby. These puppies are confident and comfortable on their own, showing no dependence on constant human interaction, still being engaging and loving just not overly needy. They have mid/moderate energy levels, with Pink leaning closer to mid.
