

Ripley Girls Temperament Assessments

Date Of Birth 10/26/2024

Ripley Litter Photo Album

7 Week Litter Video

Ripley Females Overview:

The Ripley girls started off slightly apprehensive, but most warmed up quickly and showcased their outgoing, confident, and self-assured personalities. Red took a little longer to adjust and prefers staying close for comfort. These girls have a mid to moderate energy level overall, with White leaning more toward moderate. While some are more investigative with their mouths, they are naturally sweet and respectful. These girls are fun, engaging puppies who would do well in homes that allow them time to adjust and provide interactive play.

Health Notes:

- Pink: Umbilical hernia and light shedding.
 - Pink Dot: Short tail.
-

Ripley White (Breeder's Pick)

- Prep Dates : 01.9.25 - 5.1.25 (16WK)
- Energy Level: Moderate
- Personality: White is a lively and playful puppy who quickly warms up to new environments. She is highly motivated by play and enjoys running around at full speed, which is absolutely adorable to watch. While she can be mouthy at times, she redirects well and would benefit from prep school to refine her manners and reinforce positive behaviors. Despite her busyness, she has a sweet, affectionate side and melts like butter when picked up for snuggles. Her playful energy and natural confidence make her an excellent choice for an active, interactive family. No red flags were noted.

Ripley Pink

- Energy Level: Mid to moderate
- Personality: Pink is the baby of the group and an absolute lovebug. She is naturally curious and enjoys exploring her surroundings, sometimes using her mouth to investigate. While she can be inquisitive, she remains sweet and respectful by nature. Pink is affectionate, loving, and easygoing, making her an excellent fit for a family that values close companionship and snuggle time. No red flags were noted.

Ripley Red

- Energy Level: Mid to moderate
- Personality: Red started off more apprehensive and whined slightly when unsure, showing she prefers staying close to people for comfort. Once given time and reassurance, she begins to explore and interact. Red can be a bit playfully rough with her littermates when frustrated, so she would thrive in a home that allows her time to adjust and gently fosters her confidence. Her desire for connection and closeness makes her a sweet and loving companion for a patient, nurturing family. No red flags were noted.

Ripley Pink Dot

- Energy Level: Mid to moderate
- Personality: Pink Dot is a confident and well-balanced puppy with a lovely middle-of-the-road temperament. She adjusted quickly and was happy to explore the room, play with toys, or interact with people. Her easygoing nature makes her a joy to be around, as she adapts seamlessly to whatever is happening around her. Pink Dot is content to play independently or engage with others, making her an ideal fit for a variety of home types. No red flags were noted.

