Macy Litter Temperament Overview

The Macy litter overall is confident and self-assured after a little time to adjust into a new situation. These puppies show little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances that are typically considered stressful. These puppies do startle with new sights and sounds that are typically startling, but they recover very quickly and on their own. These puppies have very good motivations for interaction, food, and toys at fairly equal and balanced levels. These puppies have a good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average to their age and stage of development. Overall, these puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and with other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people; most of them actively working to get and keep your attention. These puppies rarely use their mouth to initiate or engage in play and have excellent bite inhibition if they do. They are rarely vocal. They have no red flags and show no possessiveness. Overall these puppies are fairly consistent.
