The Chanel litter overall needs a little time to adjust into new situations, but most of them do very well. On their own these puppies show little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds including those that should be considered startling. These puppies overall have good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities average to their age and stage of development.

They have excellent motivation for interaction and food. They have good interest in toys these puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another with cats and with other dogs they are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people they rarely use their mouth to initiate or engage in play and have excellent bite inhibition if they do. They are rarely vocal these puppies have no red flags and show no possessiveness. These puppies have subtle differences between individuals.
