Palmer Boys Temperament Overview:

The Palmer litter is generally confident and self-assured, though a few of the puppies may take a bit longer to adjust to new situations. These puppies show little to no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances typically considered stressful. These puppies are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds. They do startle, but recover very quickly and on their own. These puppies have excellent motivation for interaction and good motivation for toys and food. These puppies have good memory, focus, and problem-solving abilities, average to their age and stage of development.

These puppies are socially appropriate in their interactions with one another, with cats, and other dogs. They are also socially appropriate in their interactions with people. They do use their mouth to initiate and engage in play, but have excellent bite inhibition. Orange Dot tends to vocalize when left alone while the rest of the litter is rarely vocal. These puppies have no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint. They all actively seek out interaction and are very calm and gentle with handling. These puppies are fairly consistent.

POTENTIAL SERVICE AND THERAPY CANDIDATE

- Rare Coloration: An additional $500 added to the puppy balance due to rare coloration.
- Energy Level: Mid to Moderate

This puppy will do best in a home that is going to be interactive with him. He has good potential for service work and excellent potential for therapy work.
- Weight: 3.27lbs
- Health Notes: Has a slight underbite, but our vet has confirmed it's purely cosmetic and won't cause any pain or discomfort, nor will it affect his ability to eat, play, or live a normal, happy life. As he grows, it will most likely correct itself or become even more mild over time.
